The Youth at Risk Coalition invites families of children and youth at risk for or who are experiencing the challenges of school attendance and truancy to come learn more about the truancy court process. This will include a discussion to strategize proactive approaches to reducing truancy and increasing the engagement of families and youth.

Mission

The Youth at Risk Coalition will work towards building and enhancing protective factors for children and youth at risk for truancy by examining research with respect to prevalence, best practices, and creating training and technical assistance opportunities for developing and implementing new practices in partnership with families, schools, organizations, and local, state, and federal government.
